

Week 1-July 9th-15th
Foreword & Introduction

Use our hashtag! → #ELLchat_BkClub & if you choose to respond to these questions, please identify which one you're responding to in your tweet (2A1, 2A2)

Please note: The number before the Q indicates which week of the chat we are in, so 2A1 would indicate the answer to question 1 from week 2.

Remember that you are not limited to these questions. Post a pic of your highlighted text, your favorite quotes, meaningful ideas, or your own questions.

Post anytime this week and search our # to see what others are saying!

1Q1) Roll call: introduce yourself, name, role, grade levels, country/state etc. Are you a returning participant or a new to this group?

1Q2) What makes you interested in this book/topic?

1Q3) How is your school addressing the needs of SIFE (students with interrupted formal education)?

1Q4) Please reflect on the forward by Tan Huynh (@TanELLclassroom). Tan is a leader in ESL education. What are your reactions to his story? His thoughts on the book?

1Q5) Carol writes a reflection about her first experience with a large group of refugees. How can teachers overcome self-doubt?

1Q6) What are your take-aways from the work of Nicholas Carr & Jane Healy (p. 11)?

1Q7) As you flip through the Table of Contents, what section are you most looking forward to discussing? Why?
